The session was amazing thank you. It was so touching yet informative (and emotional). We had some very brave colleagues share their experiences and I have had so many conversations with people on the back of it.

Thank you so much for the support.

Joining your event

from £500 per hour

We welcome every opportunity to work with you to create safe spaces for discussions and to establish your organisation as a compassionate workplace where every colleague can thrive.

Through bringing our subject specialists to your panel discussions, round tables, and peer-led support groups, we can help you safely raise awareness, openly discuss the impact of pregnancy and baby loss at work, offer guidance on language and context, and additionally signpost to our free confidential support services to colleagues.

Bespoke talks

from £750 per hour

Our experts are available to deliver bespoke sessions covering themes and topics relating to pregnancy and baby loss. These can be carefully crafted to your needs.

Working with you to understand the aims of your session, whether that be to all staff, people leaders, health and wellbeing first aiders, or peer-led support teams, our experts can craft informative and appropriate sessions to offer support, guidance and information.

The majority of events are hosted online. Sessions that require physical presence are charged at £1000 due to the interactive nature of the event, plus travel and accommodation expenses.
